

Manufacturing

Providing a strong legal team for manufacturing companies

Nelson Mullins' attorneys have worked extensively on the issues facing manufacturers and industrial producers, including equipment and product manufacturers and chemical engineering companies. We can help guide your institution whether you are

- a manufacturer engaged in corporate transactions, including acquisitions, mergers, and divestitures
- a manufacturer needing intellectual property protection and prosecution
- a manufacturer navigating the government procurement process and negotiating contracts
- a manufacturer litigating consumer product liability matters

Representing manufacturers in a range of transactional, litigation and general counsel matters

Nelson Mullins represents many leading manufacturing and industrial companies as they face challenges related to an ever-changing business and legal environment. We work with companies involved in consumer product and equipment manufacturing, chemical engineering, high-technology production and other manufacturing processes on a range of legal issues, including transactional law, tax law, environmental regulations, commercial and products liability litigation and general counsel needs.

Built for success in the full scope of manufacturing issues

- Mergers and acquisitions
- Matters related to subcontracting and outsourcing
- Trade practices and international trade issues
- Supply and distribution chains
- Antitrust
- Technology
- Intellectual property protection and prosecution

Related Practice Areas

Antitrust

Blockchain & Digital Currency

Corporate & Securities

Cybersecurity & Data Privacy

E-Discovery - Encompass

E-Discovery & Information Governance

Employment & Labor

Environmental, Health & Safety

Executive Compensation, ERISA, Employee Benefits

Government Relations Strategies

Intellectual Property

Litigation

Mergers & Acquisitions

Tax

White Collar Defense & Government Investigations

Related Industries

Real Estate

Technology and Commercial Transactions

- Product liability and related litigation
- Tax
- Employment issues, including labor and unions
- Commercial transactions and contracts
- Licensing agreements
- Real estate matters, including environmental matters and land acquisition
- Joint ventures
- State and federal regulation compliance

A seasoned team combining business sense with strong litigation experience

Nelson Mullins' attorneys combine experience in manufacturing and industrials with strong firm resources in corporate law, regulatory counsel, environmental law, labor and employment, products liability and commercial litigation, intellectual property and tax law. We understand the varied issues related to manufacturing and industrial production, and have worked on matters ranging from contracting to union relations to product liability litigation. This diverse, yet substantive, experience allows us to provide comprehensive, strategic counsel to clients working in the evolving field of manufacturing.

Why Nelson Mullins?

- Practical business mindset and experience
- Deep understanding of the issues facing manufacturers and industrial producers
- Efficient processes that are part of our DNA
- Recognized litigators who have likely done what you need before and can help you avoid conflicts in the future
- Substantial experience in transactional law and corporate governance for the manufacturing sector